SINN FEIN FIREBRANDS WERE BUSY AT EASTER

Over Sixty Police Barracks Destroyed in Ireland--Sinn Feiners Cautious
Ammunition Found on Searched Steamer,
But Owner Fooled Police

London, April 5.—In connection with the searching by the police of a Glasgow steamer arriving at Londonderry, the London Times says it is stated that the authorities "learned that certain persons were believed to be on their way to Ireland from America by way of Glasgow." It is reported also that, after the steamer left the dock, a search of ammunition was found on the deck. The supposed owner, arrested by the police, is now awaiting trial to escape the consequences.

It is stated that the Dublin correspondent of the Times, all active Sinn Féiners there sleep in different places each night, to avoid arrest and detection.

A special musical programme marked the evening Easter service at Central Presbyterian Church last night. Several anthems were sung under the direction of F. A. Oliver, musical director. The Soloists were Mrs. Alma George Allen, Mr. H. Robinson and Mr. J. W. Viley.

Dr. W. H. Sedgewick, the minister, preached a brief sermon. "The New Testament," he said, "is the revelation of Jesus Christ," he said. "Easter morning is the foundation of our faith. The resurrection of Jesus is the Gibraltar of our faith. The resurrection of God has been justified and glorified by God. He was raised for our sins and for our justification and for our foundation."

"We can think of the resurrection as a prophesy and as a great truth, a great Easter truth. It is a new birth, a new life, a new hope."

"Death is the gateway of life and it is only through death and resurrection that we can attain to life. We cannot live until we die."

Resisting all efforts to save her, a young woman, who was later identified as Helen Trumble, 445 Wilson street, was covered by the police, as Helen Trumble, 445 Wilson street, committed suicide by jumping from the roof of the lawless law from the restaurant was, shortly before eight o'clock, the girl was seen on the roof of the restaurant. Her actions seemed suspicious, the police officers, who were on duty, were aware with the patrol. On the arrival of the officers, the girl jumped from the roof of the restaurant and fell into the waters of the bay. A rope was thrown to her, but she pushed it aside and continued to struggle on the shore. A boat hook was then secured, and the girl was pulled up, still getting a catch in the girl's clothing.

Tax Records Burned in Dublin—Anything is Likely to Happen in Cork

Dublin, April 4.—At Dublin Castle tonight it was stated that the destruction of the tax records would result in nothing; all the records were destroyed by fire, and their loss is likely to be increased by the need of funds to replace the records and books destroyed.

Dublin, April 4.—Easter Sunday, fourth anniversary of the abortive uprising in Ireland, has passed without the threat of a repetition of the revolt having been carried out.

However, organized incineration throughout Erin, beginning yesterday evening, started an extraordinary number of fires. With the same confusion and secrecy with which the many raids on police and military have been carried out during the last few months, the police and military extremists applied the torch to Government buildings and offices, especially tax bureaus, here in Dublin, Cork, and other places. Police and fire guards were kept busy throughout the day though in some instances they came too late to save important official records from perishing in the flames.

Unlike the fanatic of 1916, the present-day leaders of the rebel movement realized that any attempt of an insurrection would mean disaster, and passed the word in good season that there was to be no attempt at a revolution. Instead, by way of endeavoring to prove that they are not entirely unimportant, the Sinn Féin men used the highly explosive of incineration, and used it with damning effect in their quarters.

But for a new armed rebellion as far as the situation can be judged from this capital, there is no danger of it to-day or in the immediate future.

TWO PERSONS ASSASSINATED

British destroyers arrived in the Dublin Bay early today. The military remains drawn around the city. After midnight several battalions of soldiers appeared in the city with armored cars and tanks. People heading for the north side of the city were turned back by armed soldiers.

A man found shot outside the city gates in the morning. The military searched several houses this morning. The incendiary work is widespread in the south of Ireland.

The Customs Office at Limerick are reported to be a pile of ash.

A Limerick constable was seen from his farm, taken out into a field and shot.

HELD UP CARBANKERS

Press reported in the office of at least eight income tax collectors and surveyors in different parts of the city.

The incendiaries did their work well and the fire brigade was called in. Just before the outbreak, the caretakers of the burned buildings were ordered to arm.

A man believed to be Private Laurence McKenna, of Belfast, was shot through the head, early this morning, in Howth, southeast of this city. It is thought the wound was mortal.

The work of the incendiaries was carried on despite military precautions, which exceeded anything of the kind here since Easter, 1916.

maintain this guard against arms for three or four days.

Dublin Castle does not take seriously the report of an outbreak. "There won't be any disturbance in Dublin," said a well-informed source. The arrival of a large number of correspondents is taken as a joke by an evening paper, which boasts their arrival with "something for the foreign correspondents to write about."

There was feverish police and military activity all day at Cork. Large forces constantly patrolled all streets. All automobiles were held up and the occupants closely questioned. Eleven unoccupied police barracks were burnt or blown up in County Cork.

Raiders invaded the post offices at Enniscorthy and seized small mail.

Two fires, believed to be the work of incendiaries, occurred. The flames broke out simultaneously in the Ireland Revenue and Pension Offices, situated half a mile apart.

The water supply, which was insufficient at first, was soon increased, but too late to prevent the total destruction of both buildings. The firemen this morning were fighting to prevent a spread of the flames.

EASTER DAY IN BURLINGTON

Special Services Attended by Large Congregations.

Lights Out Off in Churches and Homes.

The spirit of Easter pervaded Burlington yesterday, and considering the inclement weather the churches were well filled. The usual dress parade was not much in evidence, as snow flurries and cold winds were too much for the parade. The churches were well filled, and the spirit of Easter pervaded Burlington yesterday.

At St. John's Catholic Church a special mass was held at 9 o'clock. The service was in keeping with the day, and enjoyed by those present.

St. Luke's vestry meeting, held annually on Easter Monday, will start at 10 o'clock. It is the school-room.

FARMER NOT PAID LIKE THE MAN IN CITY PROBLEM OF BROTHERHOOD OF THE WORLD

Harry Whitehorn, of London, at First Methodist Last Evening.

PROFESSOR REECH CHRIST ALL WEEK

To the Farmers' Section of the Local Board of Trade.

Existing misunderstanding between the farmer and his brother of the city must be swept away and a harmonious co-operation evolved, said Professor A. Reech, of the Department of Farm Management, Ontario Agriculture College, Guelph, speaking before the Farmers' Section of the Board of Trade Sunday afternoon. Owing to a misunderstanding in making reservations at the Royal Council Chamber of the Court House and was well attended. Mr. T. J. Mahony acted as chairman.

The entire universe is divided into two classes of people distinguishable by vocation, namely producer and distributor, said the speaker. The first of these classes is represented solely by the farmer, while the remaining and larger portion of the population are the distributors. The latter are not so well organized, being of more complex nature and only dating back a relatively short period, in comparison to the farmer, who has taken to build up the producing industry. To these undeveloped conditions the speaker pointed out the present perplexities. They must follow our lead and farmer in return for his efforts to make the facts of his business known, with the declaration that the dairy farming the speaker did not think was amply remunerated at the present time. The speaker was displaced by mixed-farming and bringing the same name raised with much less work. They must make more than the other class of farmers or the dairy farmer will gradually be supplanted by other lines. Referring to the social condition of the farmer generally, he said the farmer, for the money invested, and the labor expended, is not paid anywhere near what is received in other walks of life. The farmer has always rendered a service to the community rather than seeking full remuneration for his work.

The Department of Information, Guelph, has been conducting surveys throughout Ontario in the Victoria County, which has figures of the profits and losses of its most common grades of farming. Two of these are the dairy and mixed-farming. As the result of the findings he cited the records for 1917. One hundred-acre farms in three counties brought an average of $175 and $200 respectively despite the fact that the value and fertility of the Middlesex lands are superior to that of other parts of the province. For an investment of $2000 per acre, the dairy farmer receives an average of $200 and $250. The reason for this increase of profits in dairy farming is due to the fact that acreage which runs 33 and 31, and showing in a very marked way that farming still was a profitable proposition. The actual physical effort put into the work.

At the conclusion of address, Mr. Reech was moved a hearty vote of thanks. Mr. O. J. Mahony, of the dairyman present referred in words of appreciation to the speaker, and said in a way in which he so ably defined the dairyman's interests at the Board of Commerce investigation of the fall of 1919.

The Agriculture section has arranged for another one of these excellent lectures in the Royal Council Chamber, to hear Miss Russell, of the Body and the Evening. "The Resurrection" was given. The special Easter music was given by the choir.

The Ladies' Aid, of Burlington, will hold a sale of home made cooking on Friday afternoon, in St. Luke's school, to hear the popular pastor, Rev. G. W. Barber, give his Easter message, as both services in connection with the evening meeting a delightful service, under the able leadership of Mrs. W. K. Moore, which is to be held at 8 o'clock, and the service will be shortened, owing to the failure of the lighting.

The Methodist Church will be filled to hear their popular pastor, Rev. G. W. Barber, give his Easter message, as both services in connection with the evening meeting a delightful service, under the able leadership of Mrs. W. K. Moore, which is to be held at 8 o'clock, and the service will be shortened, owing to the failure of the lighting.

The Presbyterian Church Easter services will be long remembered by those attending. Rev. L. Anderson preached on "The Significance of the Resurrection," in the morning, which was well attended. The service was enjoyed by all. In the evening, the choir gave a special song service, and in all the numbers showed careful training under Mr. G. Goddard. It would be difficult to say what the service was the best, but special mention should be made of the solo given by Mrs. W. K. Moore, Mr. Campbell Locke, and Mr. Frank Gray.

At St. John's Catholic Church a special mass was held at 9 o'clock. The service was in keeping with the day, and enjoyed by those present.

St. Luke's vestry meeting, held annually on Easter Monday, will start at 10 o'clock. It is the school-room.

C.P.R. EXHIBIT AT BIRMINGHAM ENG.

One of the most striking features of the British Industries Fair at Birmingham was the Canadian Pacific Railway exhibit in the Town Hall. The majority of the exhibitors had their stands made in Birmingham to a standard pattern, but the Publicity Department of the C.P.R., with its customary foresight, decided that they would get away from the regular stands, and have a special exhibit designed by the well-known architect, Mr. A. H. Jones. The work was carried out by Messrs. Gaze & Co., of Kingston-on-Thames, and the exhibit was sent from Kingston to Birmingham on a motor lorry. Three expert fitters went down from London to Birmingham, with the result that the C.P.R. stand was the first to be finished in the whole of the British Industries Fair. Mr. W. T. Treadaway, the engineer and representative of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Birmingham, and Mr. Owen of the Birmingham office, received many congratulations upon the Canadian Pacific Railway Exhibit.
